MIND MAPPING – Organise your thinking and develop new ideas

Thursday 10 June 2010

Developed by Tony Buzan – Mind Maps® are one of the most powerful and useful tools in the Deliberate Creative Thinking™ arsenal, now used by an estimated 250 million people around the world.

Tapping into the way brain actually works, Mind Mapping allows ideas to radiate from a central focus while providing a holistic picture of the situation.

This interactive event looks at the practical application of Mind Maps and participants will learn to:

- Unlock the power of radiant thinking by taking a look at how the brain really works
- Develop Mind Maps that capture complete concepts and develop new ideas
- Capture and comprehend information easily with greater completeness and clarity
- Use Mind Mapping to plan activities of all types
- Create Mind Maps individually and in teams
